

Nurse Chevrolet Cadillac Media Statement

In today's environmentally conscious society, the EnviroLube™ vehicle service bay system provides the only true solution to the inherent problems associated with traditional concrete pit designs of years past.

EnviroLube is a modular designed, molded, fiberglass structure that virtually eliminates all possibilities of soil contamination generated from the automotive oil changing process. All critical servicing systems are integrated within EnviroLube's unique design, providing the industry with the most technologically advanced and the only environmentally conscious below grade service bay available.

The undercarriage inspection, of each and every vehicle, is more thorough and precise as a result of the integrated lighting and the reflective white gel-coat surface EnviroLube provides. The gel-coat surface is easily cleaned and maintained, providing our customers with a service bay that withstands the inherent nature of the fast paced express vehicle services industry.

Although we at Integrated Lube Services, Inc. (ILS) designed EnviroLube to be a clean, orderly, efficient and environmentally friendly service bay, we have discovered that by creating a superior work environment, EnviroLube has helped to create a more prideful technician.

At Mary Nurse Chevrolet Cadillac, they realize that servicing customers with excellence begins with creating a work environment that helps to instill pride in each technician. This pride is reflected in each vehicle that passes over the EnviroLube and through their building.

This EnviroLube installation for Mary Nurse Chevrolet Cadillac marks a first for Canadian automobile dealers, as well as a first for the General Motors (GM) equipment program.

EnviroLube is proud to have the support of GM and Mary Nurse Chevrolet Cadillac as we continue to do the right thing...

"...Protecting Our Piece of the Planet and Protecting Our Peace of Mind".
